CKCPRD Youth Soccer Parent Information and Expectations

What to expect from this youth soccer program:

1. All children will be given the opportunity to learn the fundamentals of soccer. Each division is determined by grade level, and teams are put together as evenly as possible. There are different skills taught at each different level, and those guidelines are given to the coaches. If you have any questions, please feel free to ask for those guidelines. We will be happy to provide them.
2. Your child's coach is most likely a parent of another child on your team, and s/he is also a VOLUNTEER. Please treat him/her with respect and teach your child to do so as well. It will be your responsibility to make sure your child behaves at practices and games. Please make sure you are available if there is a problem, so your child's coach doesn't have to spend all his/her time trying to get your child to follow instructions. Practices will function much better if the coach can coach and parents can deal with disciplinary issues. Also, please make sure that your child's personal equipment (shin guards, socks, jersey, etc.) are ready to go before practice and games. Socks need to be worn OVER the shin guards, and only soccer cleats or tennis shoes are allowed. Football, baseball, and lacrosse cleats all have a toe cleat at the front of the shoe and are not acceptable footwear for soccer.

The coach is the head of the team, and ultimately the person in charge. If you would like to help or if there is a problem, please approach your child's coach in private and work together towards a solution. Most coaches are more than happy to have help. Please do not criticize your child's coach in front of your child.

3. Parents Code of Conduct:

a. I will not:

- i. yell at, harass, or argue with referees or coaches on or off the field.
- ii. force my child to participate in soccer.
- iii. behave negatively at games.

b. I will:

- i. treat referees, coaches, opposing parents and opposing players with respect.

c. Violations of code of conduct:

- i. Any parent acting unseemly will be given a warning. A second confrontation will result in removal from the field and a meeting with the soccer organizers. If you are unclear of the rules of soccer and would like some explanation, please visit the <https://www.ussoccer.com/referee-program/laws-of-the-game>. Many of the decisions made by the referees on the field are split-second decisions and made from that referee's point of view. He/she will see things differently on the field than you can see from the sideline. Parents should not have any contact with the refs during a game. After the game it is completely appropriate to express gratitude to the referee for adjudicating the game.

4. This program is run largely by volunteers, and they are taking the time from their daily schedules to help run this program. If you are interested in volunteering, please look towards the end of this packet. We always need referees, help with equipment distribution, and field upkeep.
5. Soccer games will be held rain or shine. Games will be scheduled for Saturday mornings, and practice schedules will be decided by each individual coach. If there are announcements that need to be made, we use email to notify the coaches and they will communicate with their teams.
6. Please take time to read through and sign the concussion forms attached to this registration form. It is a national law that no one under the age of 11 is allowed to head the ball, and those that are 11-13 are only allowed to head the ball in practices, not games.

I have read and agree to all these guidelines. My child(ren) has/have my permission to participate in CKCPRD Youth Soccer.

Concussion Information Sheet

A concussion is a brain injury and all brain injuries are serious. They are caused by a bump, blow, or jolt to the head, or by a blow to another part of the body with the force transmitted to the head. They can range from mild to severe and can disrupt the way the brain normally works. Even though most concussions are mild, all concussions are potentially serious and may result in complications including prolonged brain damage and death if not recognized and managed properly. In other words, even a “ding” or a bump on the head can be serious. You can’t see a concussion and most sports concussions occur without loss of consciousness. Signs and symptoms of concussion may show up right after the injury or can take hours or days to fully appear. If your child reports any symptoms of concussion, or if you notice the symptoms or signs of concussion yourself, seek medical attention right away.

Symptoms may include one or more of the following:

- | | |
|--|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Headaches• “Pressure in head”• Nausea or vomiting• Neck pain• Balance problems or dizziness• Blurred, double, or fuzzy vision• Sensitivity to light or noise• Feeling sluggish or slowed down• Feeling foggy or groggy• Drowsiness• Change in sleep patterns | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Amnesia• “Don’t feel right”• Fatigue or low energy• Sadness• Nervousness or anxiety• Irritability• More emotional• Confusion• Concentration or memory problems (forgetting game plays)• Repeating the same question/comment |

Concussion Information Sheet

What can happen if my child keeps on playing with a concussion or returns too soon?

Athletes with the signs and symptoms of concussion should be removed from play immediately. Continuing to play with the signs and symptoms of a concussion leaves the young athlete especially vulnerable to greater injury. There is an increased risk of significant damage from a concussion for a period after that concussion occurs, particularly if the athlete suffers another concussion before completely recovering from the first one. This can lead to prolonged recovery, or even to severe brain swelling (second impact syndrome) with devastating and even fatal consequences. It is well known that adolescent or teenage athlete will often under report symptoms of injuries. And concussions are no different. As a result, education of administrators, coaches, parents and students is the key for student athlete's safety.

If you think your child has suffered a concussion

Any athlete even suspected of suffering a concussion should be removed from the game or practice immediately. No athlete may return to activity after an apparent head injury or concussion, regardless of how mild it seems or how quickly symptoms clear, without medical clearance. Close observation of the athlete should continue for several hours. The new Zackery Lystedt Law (<https://apps.leg.wa.gov/rcw/default.aspx?cite=28a.600.190>) in Washington now requires the consistent and uniform implementation of long and well-established return to play concussion guidelines that have been recommended for several years:

“a youth athlete who is suspected of sustaining a concussion or head injury in a practice or game shall be removed from competition at that time” and

“...may not return to play until the athlete is evaluated by a licensed health care provider trained in the evaluation and management of concussion and received written clearance to return to play from that health care provider”.

You should also inform your child's coach if you think that your child may have a concussion. Remember, it's better to miss one game than miss the whole season. And when in doubt, the athlete sits out.
